SPEAKERS

DRI GUEST SPEAKER - Toyja E. Kelley represents large public corporations and medium-sized businesses in complex commercial disputes. He is a member of the firm's Management Committee and chair of its Diversity Committee. His successful track record is grounded in the belief that every case must be litigated with an eye toward the client's overall business situation. His representation is thus informed by deep familiarity with the companies he represents. Mr. Kelley concentrates in general commercial litigation, construction litigation, professional and product liability, business torts, and insurance coverage. He has achieved results for businesses in the manufacturing, retail, real estate, and automotive industries, among others. He has extensive trial experience in the state and federal courts in Maryland and the District of Columbia. Mr. Kelley currently serves as the Secretary/Treasurer for DRI, The Voice of the Defense Bar.

Bryan Bradley is a senior partner in the personal injury law firm of Kenneth J. Allen Law Group. He focuses his practice on heavy truck crash litigation and catastrophic personal injury and wrongful death. He obtained his B. A. degree from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1991 and his J. D. from Valparaiso University School of Law in 1994.

Scott Cockrum has an active litigation practice focused primarily in the area of insurance coverage litigation, including automobile, property, construction loss and bad faith claims, in addition to products liability litigation, medical device litigation and complex general tort liability matters. Mr. Cockrum also handles professional liability defense matters for a variety of professionals, including insurance agents and brokers, as well as medical malpractice defense for physicians, dentists, hospitals and other health care providers. His practice also encompasses legal malpractice matters, mortgage and consumer financial actions and contractual liability and indemnity claims.

Lucy Dollens is a Partner in the Indianapolis office of Quarles & Brady LLP, is a commercial litigator, handling a wide-range of commercial disputes, and has significant experience representing clients in the financial industry. Lucy also focuses on appellate litigation, where she represents individuals and corporate clients in both state and federal appellate courts on an expansive range of legal issues including but not limited to commercial litigation, labor and employment disputes, products liability claims, premises liability matters, and administrative and licensing issues. She represents amicus curiae parties regarding significant issues of Indiana law before Indiana's Court of Appeals and Supreme Court.
